Product short description:

These drinkers were designed with the purpose to answer some of the concern of reputable farmers and quail hobbyist in the U.S.A.

The concerns were the weather, reliability, availability and seeing the water since the bird consumes more water than it eats.

The main concern was the availability of water we all know that birds remain calmer with plenty of water. A consequence of lack of water was the sudden drop of egg production.

They provide easy access and enough water to provide for birds to drink at the same time they are simple to clean and quite easy to maintain.

This patented design was created to save time and effort when it comes to your bird's water needs.
